Viet Cong Shells Center Of Saigon

Fails To Stop National Day Rites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong unleashed an artillery bombardment on the center of Saigon today in a spectacular but unsuccessful attempt to disrupt South Viet Nam's National Day observances.

Six Vietnamese and one American were known dead. Conflicting reports listed up to six more killed but these reports could not be verified. The one American known dead was a Navy officer.

At least 30 Vietnamese and five Americans were wounded in the bombardment, the first time the Viet Cong shelled the capital with mortar and recoilless rifle fire.

The Viet Cong hurled 24 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle fire in and around the parade route, U.S. military headquarters said. Vietnamese authorities reported mortar shells also struck during the shelling.

The bombardment hit Saigon's Roman Catholic cathedral, a Catholic school, the John F. Kennedy Square, the Saigon central market and the French-built Grall Hospital, the biggest in the capital.

The bombardment, first of its kind by the Viet Cong against Saigon, failed to interrupt the massive parade marking the third anniversary of the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

For two hours and 20 minutes, soldiers of the South Vietnamese armed forces and the six nations allied with them paraded before tens of thousands and leading Vietnamese and foreign dignitaries.

U.S. military headquarters said the shelling came from a point 3½ miles southeast of Saigon near An Khanh Ka. Six U. S. gunship helicopters closed in on the area and artillery spotter planes were aloft. A ground force of allied troops also swept the area but the Viet Cong gunners apparently escaped.

U. S. headquarters announced that three Viet Cong were captured near the parade grandstands on Kennedy Square. A spokesman said they were armed with grenades and small arms. A Vietnamese spokesman said four more Viet Cong, armed with grenades and weapons, were seized in the vicinity of the parade route.

The U. S. psychological warfare section set to work immediately to prepare leaflets to be dropped from the air over both North and South Viet Nam. A spokesman said the leaflets would decry the "murder of the innocents" and point out "the desperation of the Viet Cong in seeking to revive its flagging prestige."

He said printing of the leaflets would start Wednesday and would carry a photograph of a woman killed in the central market square by the shellings.

Fearing more terrorist incidents, U.S. authorities put the capital off limits to American servicemen.

Little other action was reported in the war. U.S. B52s kept pressure on an enemy position in the central highlands Monday, raiding it for the third day in a row, but bad weather limited air strikes over the Communist north again and American pilots got in only 59 missions.

U.S. pilots flew 449 sorties over South Viet Nam Monday and Vietnamese pilots flew 60.

Vietnamese police sources said the shelling into the capital came from 75mm recoilless rifles and 60mm mortars, but some military men said they were sure a light howitzer also was used.

The shells struck only 50 yards behind a reviewing stand for Vietnamese, U.S. and other foreign dignitaries. Had they come 90 minutes later, they would have exploded when U.S. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and Vietnamese government chiefs were on the stand.

Elsewhere, the 63,000-ton U.S. aircraft carrier Coral Sea took up her battle station in the Gulf of Tonkin to launch air strikes against the Communist north. The Coral Sea replaced the carrier Oriskany, which was crippled by fire last Wednesday and went to the Philippines for repairs.

LBJ Praises GIs In Korea During Visit

CAMP STANLEY, Korea (AP) — "Keep your chin up and your chest out — we are proud of you and I came here to tell you so," President Johnson today told American troops confronting the Communists in Korea.

The President traveled by train and helicopter into the rugged South Korean countryside to pay tribute to Korean and American troops guarding the 151-mile border with Communist North Korea.

Speaking earnestly and in a low voice Johnson in an off-the-cuff speech told the troops 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea they were "doing a mighty good job" of protecting freedom in the United States and many parts of the world. He said no matter what they may read about anti-Viet Nam demonstrators or draft card burners, the great bulk of Americans are like them — standing up for freedom.

Johnson began his second day in South Korea with an hour's meeting with President Chung Hee Park. They discussed Viet Nam, where South Korea has 45,000 troops, and Park's request for more U.S. funds to equip troops to replace them at home.

After their talk, Johnson and Park drove through cheering, flag-waving crowds to take a special train for a 19-mile ride to the headquarters of the 26th Korean Infantry Division and nearby U.S. Camp Stanley.

At the Korean camp Johnson conferred U.S. Silver Star medals on three South Korean heroes of the Viet Nam war. He presented one to the widow of Maj. Lee In-ho, who was killed when he threw himself on a Viet Cong grenade to shield his men.

After watching Korean experts at karate smash stacks of tiles with their bare fists, the President took a helicopter to Camp Stanley, where 5,000 U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine troops had been brought by truck so the President could see a cross section of American forces in Korea. Normally Camp Stanley houses only 900 engineering troops.

Johnson hopped out of his Jeep during the drive to the camp messhall and walked along with hands outstretched as enlisted men crowded around him.

Post Office Site Inspected Here

The Dresden Ave. site of the new East Liverpool post office was inspected Monday afternoon by representatives of the U.S. postal department, the Community Improvement Corp. and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. following ceremonies at Lisbon officially turning over the properties to the CIC, which now will transfer the tract to the post office department.

Left to right are Maurice Rapport, treasurer of the CIC; D. R. Leitsch of Pittsburgh, supervisor of real estate for the railroad; Mike Turk, a member of the executive committee of the CIC; George A. Shaw, president of the CIC; Robert B. James Jr., general attorney for the postal department at Washington; Ben Berman, legal adviser for the CIC, and S. K. Harbison, manager of real estate for the railroad.

Robert Walker, manager of the real estate department of Armour & Co., handled his company's phase of the transaction earlier.

Advertising for bids is the next phase of the work. The tract of some 50,000 square feet lies between Dresden Ave. and Green Ln., fronting on Dresden some 212 feet and extending about 235 feet back.

Westinghouse Plants Struck Across Nation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An electrical Workers Union struck the giant Westinghouse Electric Corp. today, idling thousands of employes.

Officials of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, called the strike after the collapse of negotiations for a new national contract. The old pact expired at midnight Monday.

The IBEW represents a total of 14,000 workers at Westinghouse, the nation's second largest electrical products manufacturer behind General Electric.

IBEW pickets appeared at the huge East Pittsburgh works and about 7,000 members of other unions refused to enter the plant. The company maintained a skeleton force.

Also shut down was the Youngwood, Pa., plant employing 1,600 persons, most of them IBEW members.

Elsewhere, the strike was felt mainly at small manufacturing and repair facilities.

Federal mediators met with both sides for 3½ hours Monday before the talks broke off. Mediators said "each side remained adamant," but added that they would attempt to meet with the parties to effect an early settlement. However, no further talks were scheduled.

The union said it represents 14,000 workers at more than 60 plants.

The union said it ordered the walkout after Westinghouse failed to agree to 13 stipulations the union said were included in agreements signed last month with the firm's other major unions.

The issues, according to a union spokesman, included a union shop, geographic wage differentials, layoff benefits and full arbitration.

Work Is Continuing At Beaver Division

Local 201 of the union at Beaver has a separate contract which expires Wednesday midnight and meetings are scheduled all day tomorrow on the issue of whether to strike or not.

There were no pickets at the plant this morning and production was continuing.

Tract Near Rogers

Battle Renewed On School's Site

LISBON — Controversy over selection of the Rogers farm near Rogers as the site for the future Robert Bycroft School for retarded Children flared again in the Columbiana County commissioners' office Monday afternoon.

It was there Sept. 26 that Commissioners R. Max Gard of Lisbon and Robert Owen of East Liverpool voted for the site, while James W. Boyd of East Liverpool opposed it.

Owen called reporters yesterday afternoon to hear his reply to statements Boyd had given area newspapers recently to explain his stand.

Owen said he believes Boyd's releases are political, timed to the election next Tuesday. The two are opponents for a four-year term as commissioner.

BOYD SAID politics had nothing to do with it. "I would not have explained my opposition any further had not news stories said I was opposed because the site is not centrally located," Boyd said. "While that was one of the reasons, more important are two others — the traffic hazard of Rogers hill on Route 7 and the incompatibility of the proposed school and the proposed honor farm for juvenile boys across the highway."

Gard declared that the late Robert Bycroft, former county welfare director, Judge Louis Tobin, Architect Robert Beatty and the county commissioners were in accord on the Rogers farm from the beginning. He said the Welfare Department, in making application for federal funds, had to have a site around which to build its plans and narrative and Bycroft asked the commissioners to use the Rogers farm.

Gard said he had some doubt whether the land could be used for a school since it had been deeded to the county as a farm for juvenile boys, so he asked Jack M. Cohen, East Palestine attorney, to get the opinion of the donor, Roger M. Kyes of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., a General Motors executive. The farm belonged to Kyes' mother.

KYES REPLIED Oct. 19 last year: "The general idea when I gave the Rogers farmland to the county was for the use of the children. I certainly think the construction of a school for retarded children would come in

Take Test? Play Game? Maybe Both!

Would a high school football player rather take a test or play with his team in its final game of the season?

Bob Hartford of East Palestine, senior end and co-captain of the East Palestine High School Bulldogs, hopes to do both Nov. 11.

Hartford is one of 102 Ohio boys and girls who are finalists in a state history and citizenship competition for which the final essay contest will be given at Columbus the same day his football team ends its season.

Hartford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartford of 658 N. Market St., is planning to take the test at the Ohio State University campus, then grab a plane in order to reach home in time for the game with Columbiana High School.

'Never Have Seen Lazy Student'

By LESLIE J. NASON
University Southern California

"How do you inspire a student to work harder?"

"How do you get a student to become interested in his work?"

"What do you do about a lazy student?"

These are three of the questions most often asked by parents and teachers and, sometimes, by the students themselves.

TAKING THE last question first, I don't know what to do with a lazy student — I've never seen one.

In my experience, the student who appears to be lazy usually goes about his school work in an inefficient fashion, with unsatisfactory results. In consequence, he has lost interest.

It is impossible to motivate such a student through encouragement alone. Nor are rewards or threats of punishment effective.

The approach I have found successful is to help him work out programs of study that will develop interest. The first essential is a spurt of study that will build up background in a subject and make its further study more enjoyable.

For example, Jeffrey was making a "D" in history. His explanation was, "I'm not interested in history. I know I should study but I can't seem to make myself do it."

I explained to Jeffrey that the more one knows about a subject and the better the knowledge is organized in the mind, the easier it is to think about it and to learn still more about it.

To start this action in motion he must at first exert the energy to increase his knowledge of history. The easiest way was to work to learn all that he could of the history and, at the same time, get it straightened out and organized in his mind.

Two or three weeks hard work would make all the rest of the year not only more successful but easier.

TOGETHER we set up a five-point plan for Jeffrey's study of United States history.

Point One. Before studying a chapter Jeffrey was to give it a general preview from the Table of Contents and chapter headings. Knowing in advance the major events to be covered would make it possible for him to fit things together as he read — an important process.

Point Two. He was to associate each event with where it happened. Geography was to be made the anatomy of history. Events were to be visualized as occurring at a specific place on a map. Since Early American history is centered about the colonies, he was to practice sketching a map showing their location.

With his book closed and a blank sheet of paper, Jeffrey was to draw the East coast area, putting in such detail as he could remember and then, opening the book, check his map for accuracy, making needed corrections and adding any missing important elements.

Then he was to draw another sketch. Each time as he added new elements he was to think about their location in relation to the ones he had already mastered. His aim in this exercise was to develop a mental map sufficiently detailed to be used in a memory system for early American history.

Point Three. As he read the text and as he listened in class Jeffrey was to envision each event as happening at the appropriate spot on his mental map. He was to carefully associate men, events, causes and effects to the main episodes of the period. He was to let no detail stand by itself.

POINT FOUR. He was to use a time line to keep dates in their proper sequence. Assume that the period in question is from 1400 to 1800. He would draw a line across the page, divide it into equal parts labeling it 1400, 1500, 1600, 1700 and 1800. He was to mark on it known dates in their proper position.

For example, the date 1492 when the Moors were driven out of Spain and Columbus discovered America; 1776 and others. He should now open the book to make sure he was right regarding each of these dates and then check to see what other dates he should have known. Each new date added to the time line must be thought into place in relation to a date nearby.

For example, the Boston Tea Party in 1769 is thought of as seven years prior to the signing of the Declaration of Independence. As with the map, the next time he did this practice

Sheppard Jury At Murder Site

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's jury in the murder of his first wife today visits the suburban lakefront home where the couple once lived and where she died in 1954 with 27 bone-deep gashes in her head.

Their view of the scene will be followed with opening court arguments in Sheppard's second-degree murder retrial, now in its second week. His original jury conviction 12 years ago was upset by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Sheppards' home now is owned by a lawyer, John R. Hull, who has agreed to inspection of the premises by the seven male and five women jurors.

It was in an upstairs bedroom that the body of Marilyn Sheppard, then 31 and four months pregnant, was found the morning of July 4, 1954. Sheppard, 42, says she was slain by a bushy - haired stranger who knocked him unconscious.

A flurry of activity marked the close of Monday's trial session.

Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty ordered the jury locked up as of tonight. The Supreme Court was critical of the failure to isolate the original trial jury when it was not in court.

Judge Talty told the jurors they would stay in a Cleveland hotel.

Final Report Given

Midland Drive Over Top, Fund Officials Announce

The Midland Area United Fund Drive has exceeded its goal, it was announced at a final report meeting Monday night at Lincoln High School in Midland.

Additional pledges including $5,023 in the manufacturing division and $2,501 in county credit resulted in $62,932 in collections or pledges or 103 per cent of the $63,722 goal.

Further pledges and money are expected. Edwin L. Marsh of Brighton Township, assistant chairman of the campaign, said.

Marsh, who presided in the absence of Joseph Scalise, drive chairman, and Duwayne Cooper of Midland, another assistant chairman, expressed appreciation to drive leaders, volunteer solicitors, area residents, firms and employes for the successful drive.

Of the total funds obtained, $60,374 came from the manufacturing division headed by John P. Strand of Beaver, assistant work manager at the Crucible Steel Co., while $22,300 came in corporate gifts, with Crucible donating $20,300.

The rest was donated by employes of Crucible, the Mackin-

Sheppard Jury At Murder Site

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's jury in the murder of his first wife today visits the suburban lakefront home where the couple once lived and where she died in 1954 with 27 bone-deep gashes in her head.

Their view of the scene will be followed with opening court arguments in Sheppard's second-degree murder retrial, now in its second week. His original jury conviction 12 years ago was upset by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Sheppards' home now is owned by a lawyer, John R. Hull, who has agreed to inspection of the premises by the seven male and five women jurors.

It was in an upstairs bedroom that the body of Marilyn Sheppard, then 31 and four months pregnant, was found the morning of July 4, 1954. Sheppard, 42, says she was slain by a bushy-haired stranger who knocked him unconscious.

A flurry of activity marked the close of Monday's trial session.

Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty ordered the jury locked up as of tonight. The Supreme Court was critical of the failure to isolate the original trial jury when it was not in court.

Judge Talty told the jurors they would stay in a Cleveland hotel.

GOP Says Road Figures Refute Gosney's Charges

LISBON — Three Columbiana County Republicans have released highway construction figures showing nearly $37 million will be spent in this county for the period beginning January 1963 and ending July 1969.

The Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia compiled the report at the request of State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, County Commissioner James W. Boyd and Charles J. Gause, Hanover Township trustee running for county commissioner.

They state the figures refute a charge made by Don R. Gosney of Columbiana that the Highway Department is "dragging its feet" in construction in Columbiana County. "There seems to be no validity to Gosney's claim in the light of the Division 11 figures," they say.

Projects sold and completed in the county from 1963 to date total $2.5 million, while projects presently under construction amount to another $5 million.

Project programming from December 1966 to July 1969 calls for a total of $30,095,000, with another $6.8 million earmarked for construction immediately following that time schedule.

The U. S. Route 30 and State Route 11 freeway from East Liverpool to the Mahoning County line near Columbiana has been divided into five sections and will cost $24.8 million, with the sale of the contract for the last leg to be made in 1968.

The following projects have been completed to date: Salem overpass, $1.2 million; A & P intersection at Salem, $136,000; Washingtonville Bridge, $81,650; Rogers Bridge, $49,900; Negley drainage, $25,500; Township Road 958, East Palestine, $77,454; County Road 439, Salem, $135,060, and St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, $797,788.

In addition to the Route 11 project, plans call for Franklin Ave. in Salem, $260,000; Route 518 east of Route 644, $100,000; Route 45 bypass south of Salem, $1.1 million; Route 267, East Liverpool, $200,000; 9th St. bridge, East Liverpool, 275,000; Wellsville by-pass, $4.5 million; Route 154, Lisbon, $700,000; Route 164, south of Lisbon, $300,000; Route 344, Leetonia to Columbiana, $500,000, and Routes 62 and 45 bypasses north of Salem, $1.8 million. The contracts on all these projects are to be let before the end of 1968.

A native of East Liverpool has received the "Exceptional Civilian Service Award," the highest Air Force decoration for federal employes.

The presentation was made to Fred Forbes of Xenia last month during ceremonies at the Wright-Patterson base, Dayton.

He is the son of the former Phyllis McCullough of East Liverpool and Kenneth Forbes of Wellsville.

October Showed Sub-Normal Rain

October 1966 was below normal in temperature and rainfall Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported today in his monthly summary.

The average temperature last month was 48 degrees, more than 3 degrees under the normal October temperature of 51.4 degrees on his record books.

The mercury hit a high of 78 degrees Oct. 15 and dipped to a low of 23 degrees Oct. 21. The first killing frost hit Oct. 7 with a 25-degree reading.

Rainfall amounted to only 1.72 inches, compared with the normal 2.52 inches he said. There were 19 clear days, five partly cloudy days and seven cloudy days for a sunshine proportion of 68 per cent. The normal is 50 per cent.

Copeland said the temperature factor was lower than normal because of the number of cool nights. However, he said farm field work is on schedule because of the many days of good weather.

He said a soaking rain is needed to get the small grain crops up and ready for winter.

Bucyrus Facility Closed Following Picket Troubles

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)— The strikebound Swan Rubber Co. was closed indefinitely late Monday after a truck driver and a company executive encountered trouble at the picket lines.

The closing of the plant, which had been operating with non-union employes on one shift since the strike began two weeks ago, was requested by Crawford County Sheriff Elwood Jacobs.

The company, which told workers to stay home until further notice, ran a newspaper ad today that said "they (non-union employes) should be permitted to return to work. We call upon the law to protect them."

About 130 employes were in the plant Monday. They left work under police protection after the latest incident of violence outside.

A truck attempting to enter the plant was blocked by a crowd of about 200 men, the sheriff's office said, and the driver gave up on his attempt after the truck's windows and lights were smashed.

No arrests were made Monday and there were no injuries, Sheriff Jacobs said.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

October Showed Sub-Normal Rain

October 1966 was below normal in temperature and rainfall Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported today in his monthly summary.

The average temperature last month was 48 degrees, more than 3 degrees under the normal October temperature of 51.4 degrees on his record books.

The mercury hit a high of 78 degrees Oct. 15 and dipped to a low of 23 degrees Oct. 21. The first killing frost hit Oct. 7 with a 25-degree reading.

Rainfall amounted to only 1.72 inches, compared with the normal 2.52 inches he said. There were 19 clear days, five partly cloudy days and seven cloudy days for a sunshine proportion of 68 per cent. The normal is 50 per cent.

Copeland said the temperature factor was lower than normal because of the number of cool nights. However, he said farm field work is on schedule because of the many days of good weather.

He said a soaking rain is needed to get the small grain crops up and ready for winter.

Bucyrus Facility Closed Following Picket Troubles

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP)— The strikebound Swan Rubber Co. was closed indefinitely late Monday after a truck driver and a company executive encountered trouble at the picket lines.

The closing of the plant, which had been operating with non-union employes on one shift since the strike began two weeks ago, was requested by Crawford County Sheriff Elwood Jacobs.

The company, which told workers to stay home until further notice, ran a newspaper ad today that said "they (non-union employes) should be permitted to return to work. We call upon the law to protect them."

About 130 employes were in the plant Monday. They left work under police protection after the latest incident of violence outside.

A truck attempting to enter the plant was blocked by a crowd of about 200 men, the sheriff's office said, and the driver gave up on his attempt after the truck's windows and lights were smashed.

No arrests were made Monday and there were no injuries, Sheriff Jacobs said.

Non-Proliferation Treaties

We doubt if 20th century confusion will produce anything more confusing than the thinking behind proposals for nuclear nonproliferation treaties.

The central thought in the proposals is that charter members of the Nuclear Club, like the United States, Britain and Russia, should cut back to enough nuclear capability to satisfy their own needs but additional members should never be permitted to have more than a bare minimum in the first place.

The secondary thought is that nations unable to pay initiation fees to the Nuclear Club should have no capability at all, because it wouldn't be good for them.

And apparently the tertiary thought is that the Nuclear Club should blackball would-be members who do not measure up to its standards and act in unison to show animosity against non-conformists.

THE COMPARISON is odious to evangelists of the new faith in international agreements, but isn't nuclear proliferation like any other military proliferation, only more frightening?

After World War I, the naval powers got together to limit naval armament. It was a wonderful purpose. Agreements were signed and noble resolutions adopted and broadcast to all men of good will.

The catch was that Japan didn't believe in good will. It proliferated while the other nations were picking nits out of each other's navy yards.

There also was to have been a ban on ground and air proliferation on the part of Germany. But the Germans built a powerful air force and trained a tremendous army while the nonproliferators were gloating over reductions in their military budgets.

After World War II, arms limitation was a lost cause from the outset.

WHEN THE United States had a monopoly on nuclear weapons, it offered to limit its own capacity, if other nations would forego nuclear competition. They weren't interested. They wanted to join the Nuclear Club.

Russia wasn't interested in nuclear limitation until Red China got into competition, thanks to Russian assistance.

China, if it shoots its way into the Nuclear Club, will become interested when it learns that the Japanese have perfected an H-bomb better than any other bomb at one-tenth the cost.

The only nations really interested in nonproliferation have no hope of ever proliferating.

All others are hoping to tie the hands of their rivals with a treaty while keeping their own hands free.

It Could Be Impossible

It didn't take long for skeptics to uncover a sticking point in ridding South Viet Nam of "enemy troops.

The United States could pull out its own troops without a hitch.

They can be identified on sight. They are Americans, wearing U.S. uniforms, bearing weapons made in the United States, with identification papers in apple-pie order—and all of them itching to get out of Viet Nam.

But if the United States makes a point of having the Viet Cong pulled out of South Viet Nam, along with troops of North Viet Nam, that could be impossible.

The Viet Cong cannot be told from other Vietnamese on sight. They may bear U.S.-made weapons. Or they may bear no weapons at all, except on those occasions when they are fighting.

They are an indigenous revolutionary organization, successor to the Vietnamese patriots who fought successfully to throw out the French and Japanese. Even to suggest that these people be thrown out of their own country is like suggesting that political dissidents be thrown out of the United States. How could they be identified?

North Vietnamese also are indistinguishable from South Vietnamese. When they infiltrate it is not in the sense of traditional military infiltration. They are members of the same race, speak the same language and in many instances are blood relatives of the South Vietnamese.

The United States says it wouldn't be wise to spell out at this time just how it proposes to get rid of hostile forces in South Viet Nam, if that must be done to end the war. Not only would it be unwise. It could be impossible.

Unfinished Business

By John Chadwick

WASHINGTON

One piece of unfinished business left behind by Congress was legislation designed to make its own operations more efficient.

In the pell-mell rush with which measures were passed in the final days before adjournment, some members spoke out strongly on the need for Congress to get its own house in order.

"This is no way to run a railroad and it is no way to run the Senate," Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., protested at one point.

Others also complained of bills being passed and billions being appropriated without adequate study.

But in the closing crush action was put off until next year on a congressional reorganization measure drafted by the special Senate - House committee after 17 months of study.

SOME OF THE primary objectives of the bill are to increase the effectiveness of the committee system, to strengthen congressional control over government spending and to provide the members with more information on complex issues.

It also would tighten the regulation of lobbying, provide for an August recess of Congress except in time of war, relieve Congress of any responsibility for the appointment of postmasters and require higher standards for patronage employes.

With more than 90 per cent of all legislation passed in the form approved in committee, many of the bill's provisions are aimed at strengthening the committee system and at making committee actions subject to critical examination.

It would permit a majority of a committee to call meetings and to require legislation to be reported if the chairman fails or refuses to do so. Proxy voting would be abolished. Votes taken in closed sessions would have to be made public.

Open hearings would be required except in national security matters or when testimony might reflect adversely on the character or reputation of a witness or others.

Hearings normally would be announced two weeks in advance. Witnesses would have to file written statements two days before testifying. Daily summaries of testimony would be prepared. The minority would have the right to call witnesses for at least one day of the hearings.

COMMITTEE reports on bills would have to be made available to the entire membership three days before a measure was called up for floor action. Specific responsibilities would be assigned to committees to review the operations of existing programs. Committee jurisdiction would be realigned. Increased professional help would be provided.

To increase congressional controls over the government's fiscal affairs, the bill provides for making greater use of the General Accounting Office, the employment of automatic data processing techniques and procedures to give Congress a broader view of the President's budget and the economic assumptions underlying it.

In an effort to assure senators and House members of more adequate sources of information, the bill not only would authorize additional professional staff help but would permit the employment of outside consultants and create an expanded legislative research service in the Library of Congress.

Unraked Leaves

By Truman Twill

We're back to the leaf problem.

Whether to rake them or let them alone.

Whether to destroy them or return them to the earth from whence they came.

Whether to tidy up nature's premises or let them be as messy as nature intended them to be.

Putting it this way, you might think the problem always would be solved in favor of letting leaves lie where they were laid by autumn winds.

But we have here another of the endless skirmishes between man and nature——skirmishes in which man tries to out-smart the best friend he has on earth.

So man rakes up the leaves. If they're dry, he burns them, scorching the ground in the best tradition of the Huns and Visigoths.

If they're wet, he loads them in boxes for someone to haul away to a dump, preferably at taxpayers' expense.

He gets rid of the leaves.

He neatens up the premises, thereby making certain rain will erode the soil and leach it. Or if by chance the soil is covered with turf he makes sure the turf will not be enriched by an annual accretion of leaf mold.

More important than anything else in man's mind is the improvement he thinks he has made in the appearance of the earth. What he has not blacktopped, nor crusted with concrete or barricaded with bristling buildings he now has raked clean and thereby earned credentials as a faithful custodian.

There is an alternative.

It is to live by the rule that an unraked leaf is a happy leaf fulfilling its natural destiny.

No one rakes a leaf at the Twillery. The wind that bestoweth leaves on us bestoweth our leaves on others. It whisks them away into deep places, filling them up. It lays them in deep forests as a blanket over flowers that will bloom next spring, tra-la.

It carries them, swirling and dancing, to the foothills of mountains, to lakes, rivers and oceans. And for every leaf dispatched to some destiny afar, another leaf is dispatched from distant points to the Twillery.

It arrives in due time and finds its place, where it settles down for the winter months. Why should anyone disturb it? It is threatening no harm to anyone.

Chances are, moreover, that a gusty March wind will wake it up and send it on its way to nestle somewhere else, until it finally returns to the earth as priceless humus.

Odd Facts

Even though the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, giving women the right to vote, didn't become a law until 1920, the woman suffrage movement in this country dates back to 1848.

English barristers and judges adopted the familiar wigs they wear as part of their ceremonial costume during the 17th century.

The oldest European settlement in the New World is Santo Domingo, on the island of Haiti, which was founded in 1496 by Columbus.

Polar bears do not hibernate, but during the winter the female lies in a snug den under the snow to produce her cubs.

Red Spy Plan On Labor Told

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — On Sept. 12, a very high level, six-member delegation of British labor leaders arrived in Moscow and got the full red carpet treatment — replete with tapped phones, bugged hotel rooms, special guides culled from the secret police and some very good dinners, indeed.

Victor Riesel

The British, led by my friend big Sir Harry Douglas, president of the Trades Union Congress, were a genial and trusting lot of good fellows.

This was the new Russia and they would not believe they would be carefully shepherded by state security agents so they would not see what the Soviets did not want them to see.

It now develops they were too trustful — and the information that proved this is in the hands of colleagues of AFL-CIO president George Meany, the world Communist's labor enemy No. 1.

Though Sir Harry, of the steel workers' union, and his colleagues were the guests of the Soviet trade union federation, their trip was handled and planned by the Komitet Gosudarstvennoy Bezopasnosti. This is the KGB, Committee For State Security.

THE BRITISH LABOR leaders were in the hands of Nikolai Antonovich Berdennikov. It was he who was their contact with the Soviet Embassy in London. It was he who developed their schedule and official functions inside the Soviet Union. It was he who saw to it that they were properly greeted and got into the right hotel rooms.

These British knew Berdennikov as a jolly fellow familiar with London, New York and Moscow night life. His English was — and is — fine.

But what the British did not know and what is now known to some national AFL-CIO leaders is that Berdennikov was — and is — a Soviet secret intelligence (KGB) agent. At times he has been one of some 100 such KGB people constantly operating in the U.S.

Much of Berdennikov's "security" assignments is known to the Western "intelligence community." But even without such contacts, the British labor leaders could have checked the penkovsky papers and discovered that Berdennikov is:

"DGS agent and senior specialist, works on the British Desk, which includes Canada and other English-speaking countries. He has made several trips to London and to the U.S. on KGB assignments as a member of various Soviet delegations. . . ."

HIS "COVER" HAS BEEN, at times, the State Committee for the Co-ordination of Scientific Research Work of the Council of Ministers USSR.

His British operation was almost perfect. But at the last minute the London labor delegation lost its chief, George Woodcock, general secretary of the 10-million-member TUC.

Mr. Woodcock was hospitalized by a heart attack. This the Soviets regretted. If he had come a precedent might have been set, since in the United Kingdom the post of general secretary has more power than that of president. Thus, if Woodcock had been well and had gone on this journey — the first such since 1949 — pressure could have been more urgently brought upon the American labor movement also to break the ice and send a similar delegation.

The British delegation had 3½ hours with Victor Grishin, president of the USSR's All-Union Central Council Of Trade Unions. It was a great propaganda coup — and getting the AFL-CIO would have been even more profitable for the USSR at this moment of intense global propaganda warfare.

IT WOULD HAVE BEEN especially beneficial because the first order of business at the Nov. 14 AFL-CIO Executive Council session will be foreign policy. Never before has such a discussion led off any such session. There will be a handful of the high council who will pressure George Meany to take a more "flexible" position on cultural and labor exchanges with the USSR and the bloc nations.

Meany expects this. Though he is aware of the espionage mesh woven around the British journeymen, he will not use it. Instead, his position has been and will be that the U.S. should do some trading before making concessions to the Communist bloc.

His colleagues say he is not inflexible at all. His attitude is: Why not get the Soviets to trade something in exchange for opening trade with them more extensively?

Why not get the USSR to wipe out anti-semitism? Why not ask them to tear down the Berlin Wall?

WHY NOT DEMAND that they wipe out the heavily mined death strip which still is a bloody fringe around Hungary? Why not open the gates so that the 40,000 refugees who escape from the bloc each year (according to the State Department's special officer in charge of refugee operations, James Wine) need not run a gauntlet of terror?

Until there are such concessions, Meany, American labor's most powerful figure, will never agree to any mission to Moscow. The red carpet treatment does not interest him.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This letter is in reply to one in last week's Review. In that letter the writer made some pretty strong accusations.

Mr. Blair, the school board, or any other individual is not going to have enough influence on citizens to sway the election one way or the other. Of course they don't own the city or the schools of East Liverpool! In the end, the taxpayers are the ones who make the decision.

Anyone not willing to pay a few dollars extra in taxes per year must not be a parent. Otherwise, they would be interested in the betterment of our present school system. What good will all the new schools do us if you, the taxpayers, aren't willing to vote for the levy?

If we're going to have new schools, we want the best of educational materials and the best of teachers. And these are not possible if the levy isn't passed.

As for "getting rid of" the high school, the Memorial Auditorium and Klondyke, are these really a great loss? When voting, remember that the students of today are the citizens of tomorrow. And anyone with children wants the best of educational facilities for them. Are those three buildings modern enough to supply the needs of our present day students? Indeed not!

If you vote against the school levy you will be slowing down the progress of our school system. And if it doesn't pass, the parents of students will probably end up paying more for transportation and lunches. So why not vote "yes" and pay for the extra taxes instead?

I, as a representative of the student body at Westgate Junior High, wish to urge all of the residents of East Liverpool to vote in favor of the levy in the coming election. If it doesn't pass, how can the East Liverpool public school system ever hope to be rated tops in Ohio?

KAREN HUGGINS

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read Mr. Anthony's letter in Tuesday's paper and the people should listen to him, because he is right.

We are being taxed now to the extent that it is a hardship on a lot of people. If just the property owners were the only ones allowed to vote, I feel sure that the increased school levy would be defeated.

There are families right now that are on a low-paying basis, that can't afford the taxes they are already paying. How are they going to pay more?

I agree with Mr. Anthony that there will be a lot of people losing their homes and those who are going to suffer will be our children—and I think they do enough of that.

I know Mr. Blair and the school board say what they will do away with, but that doesn't have to be. If they can't manage, get someone who can!

There is nothing wrong with Glenmoor school, so why get rid of it? I moved to Glenmoor so my little ones wouldn't have to stand in the cold and wait for a bus, but now they have to go to LaCroft.

It isn't a fancy school they need, it's the teachers in the school that count.

I have talked to mothers that ask, What are you supposed to do? If you don't vote for the levy they will take it out on your children and if you do how are you going to pay more taxes. Well, there is one thing for sure, they had better be careful of what they do. There is no one who can't lose their job.

If the people of East Liverpool would stick together, they wouldn't be paying bus fare to get their children to school and back.

It's about time people quit sitting back and letting a few people run them.

It's not right. Get out and vote "no" and then fight for what you believe. We are the taxpayers and we pay enough now.

DARLENE MOFFETT

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This letter is neither pro nor con for the school levy.

However, I feel if they want to have prayer at the half - time of football games, their time would be better spent by praying for our boys in Viet Nam, who are giving their lives so that some day our world may know peace, or for the parents of the children in Wales who lost their lives in an earth slide.

I believe very firmly in prayer. But to have a public gathering at a football game pray for a school levy seems sacreligious.

Non-Proliferation Treaties

We doubt if 20th century confusion will produce anything more confusing than the thinking behind proposals for nuclear nonproliferation treaties.

The central thought in the proposals is that charter members of the Nuclear Club, like the United States, Britain and Russia, should cut back to enough nuclear capability to satisfy their own needs but additional members should never be permitted to have more than a bare minimum in the first place.

The secondary thought is that nations unable to pay initiation fees to the Nuclear Club should have no capability at all, because it wouldn't be good for them.

And apparently the tertiary thought is that the Nuclear Club should blackball would-be members who do not measure up to its standards and act in unison to show animosity against non-conformists.

THE COMPARISON is odious to evangelists of the new faith in international agreements, but isn't nuclear proliferation like any other military proliferation, only more frightening?

After World War I, the naval powers got together to limit naval armament. It was a wonderful purpose. Agreements were signed and noble resolutions adopted and broadcast to all men of good will.

The catch was that Japan didn't believe in good will. It proliferated while the other nations were picking nits out of each other's navy yards.

There also was to have been a ban on ground and air proliferation on the part of Germany. But the Germans built a powerful air force and trained a tremendous army while the nonproliferators were gloating over reductions in their military budgets.

After World War II, arms limitation was a lost cause from the outset.

WHEN THE United States had a monopoly on nuclear weapons, it offered to limit its own capacity, if other nations would forego nuclear competition. They weren't interested. They wanted to join the Nuclear Club.

Russia wasn't interested in nuclear limitation until Red China got into competition, thanks to Russian assistance.

China, if it shoots its way into the Nuclear Club, will become interested when it learns that the Japanese have perfected an H-bomb better than any other bomb at one-tenth the cost.

The only nations really interested in nonproliferation have no hope of ever proliferating.

All others are hoping to tie the hands of their rivals with a treaty while keeping their own hands free.

It Could Be Impossible

It didn't take long for skeptics to uncover a sticking point in ridding South Viet Nam of "enemy troops.

The United States could pull out its own troops without a hitch.

They can be identified on sight. They are Americans, wearing U.S. uniforms, bearing weapons made in the United States, with identification papers in apple-pie order—and all of them itching to get out of Viet Nam.

But if the United States makes a point of having the Viet Cong pulled out of South Viet Nam, along with troops of North Viet Nam, that could be impossible.

The Viet Cong cannot be told from other Vietnamese on sight. They may bear U.S.-made weapons. Or they may bear no weapons at all, except on those occasions when they are fighting.

They are an indigenous revolutionary organization, successor to the Vietnamese patriots who fought successfully to throw out the French and Japanese. Even to suggest that these people be thrown out of their own country is like suggesting that political dissidents be thrown out of the United States. How could they be identified?

North Vietnamese also are indistinguishable from South Vietnamese. When they infiltrate it is not in the sense of traditional military infiltration. They are members of the same race, speak the same language and in many instances are blood relatives of the South Vietnamese.

The United States says it wouldn't be wise to spell out at this time just how it proposes to get rid of hostile forces in South Viet Nam, if that must be done to end the war. Not only would it be unwise. It could be impossible.

Unfinished Business

WASHINGTON

One piece of unfinished business left behind by Congress was legislation designed to make its own operations more efficient.

In the pell-mell rush with which measures were passed in the final days before adjournment, some members spoke out strongly on the need for Congress to get its own house in order.

"This is no way to run a railroad and it is no way to run the Senate," Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., protested at one point.

Others also complained of bills being passed and billions being appropriated without adequate study.

But in the closing crush action was put off until next year on a congressional reorganization measure drafted by the special Senate - House committee after 17 months of study.

SOME OF THE primary objectives of the bill are to increase the effectiveness of the committee system, to strengthen congressional control over government spending and to provide the members with more information on complex issues.

It also would tighten the regulation of lobbying, provide for an August recess of Congress except in time of war, relieve Congress of any responsibility for the appointment of postmasters and require higher standards for patronage employes.

With more than 90 per cent of all legislation passed in the form approved in committee, many of the bill's provisions are aimed at strengthening the committee system and at making committee actions subject to critical examination.

It would permit a majority of a committee to call meetings and to require legislation to be reported if the chairman fails or refuses to do so. Proxy voting would be abolished. Votes taken in closed sessions would have to be made public.

Open hearings would be required except in national security matters or when testimony might reflect adversely on the character or reputation of a witness or others.

Hearings normally would be announced two weeks in advance. Witnesses would have to file written statements two days before testifying. Daily summaries of testimony would be prepared. The minority would have the right to call witnesses for at least one day of the hearings.

COMMITTEE reports on bills would have to be made available to the entire membership three days before a measure was called up for floor action. Specific responsibilities would be assigned to committees to review the operations of existing programs. Committee jurisdiction would be realigned. Increased professional help would be provided.

To increase congressional controls over the government's fiscal affairs, the bill provides for making greater use of the General Accounting Office, the employment of automatic data processing techniques and procedures to give Congress a broader view of the President's budget and the economic assumptions underlying it.

In an effort to assure senators and House members of more adequate sources of information, the bill not only would authorize additional professional staff help but would permit the employment of outside consultants and create an expanded legislative research service in the Library of Congress.

Unraked Leaves

By Truman Twill

We're back to the leaf problem.

Whether to rake them or let them alone.

Whether to destroy them or return them to the earth from whence they came.

Whether to tidy up nature's premises or let them be as messy as nature intended them to be.

Putting it this way, you might think the problem always would be solved in favor of letting leaves lie where they were laid by autumn winds.

But we have here another of the endless skirmishes between man and nature—skirmishes in which man tries to out-smart the best friend he has on earth.

So man rakes up the leaves. If they're dry, he burns them, scorching the ground in the best tradition of the Huns and Visigoths.

If they're wet, he loads them in boxes for someone to haul away to a dump, preferably at taxpayers' expense.

He gets rid of the leaves.

He neatens up the premises, thereby making certain rain will erode the soil and leach it. Or if by chance the soil is covered with turf he makes sure the turf will not be enriched by an annual accretion of leaf mold.

More important than anything else in man's mind is the improvement he thinks he has made in the appearance of the earth. What he has not blacktopped, nor crusted with concrete or barricaded with bristling buildings he now has raked clean and thereby earned credentials as a faithful custodian.

There is an alternative.

It is to live by the rule that an unraked leaf is a happy leaf fulfilling its natural destiny.

No one rakes a leaf at the Twillery. The wind that bestoweth leaves on us bestoweth our leaves on others. It whisks them away into deep places, filling them up. It lays them in deep forests as a blanket over flowers that will bloom next spring, tra-la.

It carries them, swirling and dancing, to the foothills of mountains, to lakes, rivers and oceans. And for every leaf dispatched to some destiny afar, another leaf is dispatched from distant points to the Twillery.

It arrives in due time and finds its place, where it settles down for the winter months. Why should anyone disturb it? It is threatening no harm to anyone.

Chances are, moreover, that a gusty March wind will wake it up and send it on its way to nestle somewhere else, until it finally returns to the earth as priceless humus.

he was to start with a new sheet of paper and repeat the process.

Point Five. To make history a living thing Jeffrey was to associate men and their ideas with events and their causes.

Jeffrey was hesitant about adopting the plan saying, "This all sounds logical but I have made good resolutions in the past only to find that when the time came to sit down and study I got distracted by radio or TV programs and let the history go, thinking I might do it the next day."

Jeffrey had not learned the secret of controlling his actions. It is not done by resolutions alone. Actions result from planning.

I assured Jeffrey that if he continuously revisde his plans of what he was going to do as he studied, how he was going to think as he read, as well as what he was going to think about as he listened in class, he would be able to keep his mind on history and study when the time for study arrived. Especially at first, he would have to strive to keep his mind filled with plans.

Three weeks of intensive study was all it took for Jeffrey to acquire an interest in history. He not only became an expert on dates, but his grades improved markedly.

Power Plant May Be Built

WHEELING — The Wheeling area may become the site of the largest privately - owned power plant in the United States, it was disclosed at a press conference Monday by Donald Cook, president of the American Electric Power System, which includes the Ohio Power Co. and the Wheeling Electric Co.

Cook, who is former head of the Securities Exchange Commission, said the new installation, which would cost $20 million, literally will pour millions of dollars in construction costs and wages into the Ohio Valley.

The plant will contain two 800,000-kilowatt generators, with the possibility that a third will be installed later. These will rival the 1.1-million kilowatt generators at the government - owned TVA in Kentucky, the nation's largest, Cook added.

The official announcement of the site, which will be in West Virginia, will be made before Dec. 15, Cook said.

Point Five. To make history a living thing Jeffrey was to associate men and their ideas with events and their causes.

Jeffrey was hesitant about adopting the plan saying, "This all sounds logical but I have made good resolutions in the past only to find that when the time came to sit down and study I got distracted by radio or TV programs and let the history go, thinking I might do it the next day."

Jeffrey had not learned the secret of controlling his actions. It is not done by resolutions alone. Actions result from planning.

I assured Jeffrey that if he continuously revisde his plans of what he was going to do as he studied, how he was going to think as he read, as well as what he was going to think about as he listened in class, he would be able to keep his mind on history and study when the time for study arrived. Especially at first, he would have to strive to keep his mind filled with plans.

Three weeks of intensive study was all it took for Jeffrey to acquire an interest in history. He not only became an expert on dates, but his grades improved markedly.

Power Plant May Be Built

WHEELING — The Wheeling area may become the site of the largest privately - owned power plant in the United States, it was disclosed at a press conference Monday by Donald Cook, president of the American Electric Power System, which includes the Ohio Power Co. and the Wheeling Electric Co.

Cook, who is former head of the Securities Exchange Commission, said the new installation, which would cost $20 million, literally will pour millions of dollars in construction costs and wages into the Ohio Valley.

The plant will contain two 800,000-kilowatt generators, with the possibility that a third will be installed later. These will rival the 1.1-million kilowatt generators at the government - owned TVA in Kentucky, the nation's largest, Cook added.

The official announcement of the site, which will be in West Virginia, will be made before Dec. 15, Cook said.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a real time and worksaver for gals like me who have to starch and iron those cotton twill uniforms or any type of starched trousers.

I wash my husband's trousers as usual, and put them on trouser creasers — being sure to have the seams together.

I then hang them on the line and get my trusty can of spray starch and spray the legs (while thoroughly damp) on both sides of the crease with as heavy or as light a starch as I desire.

When I take them off the line I remove the creasers and the legs are beautifully starched and creased.

Then, all it takes is just a minute or two, and a few more sprays of starch to complete the top of the trousers at the ironing board.

BETTSI OUTLAND.

Folks, Bettsi is right about spraying the trousers while they are still thoroughly damp.

The fibers of the twill cloth are soaked through after washing. The starch soaks in better this way.

When fruit stain is set by heat or age, sometimes it's impossible to remove completely. Nevertheless, run cool water through the stain and soak the garment overnight in cool water.

If the stain remains, rub neutral (non-alkaline) synthetic detergent into it. Then rinse in cool water.

If the stain is still there, use chlorine or sodium perborate or hydrogen peroxide bleach.

Be sure to TEST the liquids on a hidden spot of the garment first to see if they are applicable to your material.

Voter Apathy Reported By Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson said today candidates across the country are encountering voter apathy that may indicate little change in the political complexion of Congress.

"There are some hot spots, of course — states in which there are some real, live races — but generally there seems to be a great deal of apathy among the voters," he said.

Magnuson, Washington Democrat who heads the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, indicated in a telephone interview he thinks this failure of the average citizen to respond to Viet Nam, inflation and other issues will result in very little net turnover, particularly in Senate races.

"I don't think the Senate lineup will change more than one or two votes, either way," he said. "We could gain a seat or two or we could lose one or two."

Magnuson's view that the current Senate lineup of 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans will not be altered materially was shared to an extent by Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Morton told a news conference Monday he was claiming "only a modest (net) gain of three seats" in the Senate. He said he thinks the Republicans will reclaim the 38 House seats they lost in 1964 and add four or five governors to their list.

The Kentucky senator, a former GOP national chairman, predicted Republican Charles H. Percy will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois and that GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin will turn back the challenge of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in Michigan.

Mild U.N. Statement Waited On Israel And Syria Trouble

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was expected to agree today on a mild statement concerning current trouble along the Israeli-Syrian border following failure of the United States to get enough support for a resolution blaming Syria.

When U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg first sought to muster approval in the 15-nation council for his resolution, the only hurdle anticipated by the West was a Soviet veto. But it became evident late Monday that the U.S. proposal lacked enough affirmative votes for passage.

The council adjourned without taking any action so that members could discuss an alternate proposal by Nigeria to do away with any resolution and substitute a statement of consensus to be read by the council president.

Nigerian delegate S.O. Adebo was reported to have picked up the support of most nonpermanent members of the council. His idea was promoted as a maneuver to bypass a veto by the Russians, who side with the Arabs in such disputes.

The U.S. resolution, which Britain also sponsored, blamed the Arab commando organization Assifa for a series of murder and sabotage missions against Israel. It urged Syria to prevent further use of its territory as a base for raids violating its armistice agreement with Israel.

The consensus proposed by the Africans virtually eliminates any criticism of Syria. The United States was reported concerned that it would do nothing to quiet the potentially explosive situation along the Israeli-Syria border.

Child's Shoes Torn Off By Crash Impact

An 8-year-old child injured by an auto about noon Monday on Pennsylvania Ave. near Dewey Ave. was struck with such force that both shoes were torn from her feet, the investigating officer reported.

Lavina Lou Shreve, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller of Lee St., was in "satisfactory" condition today at City Hospital with injuries of the pelvis and leg suffered in the mishap at 11:54 a. m. yesterday.

Police said she was hit by an eastbound 1962 two-door sedan driven by Francis W. Cornman Jr., 22, of Dixonville.

Cornman told Patrolman Orin C. Smith he was driving about 25 miles an hour when the child ran from between two parked cars into his path. He said the girl was near his right front fender before he saw her and he swerved the car in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the accident.

The officer said he was unable to interview the injured child yesterday because she was under sedation.

Smith said he found 28 feet of tire skid marks at the scene. Both of the girl's slip-on type shoes were torn from her feet by the impact, he reported. The right shoe was found about 18 inches from the child, while the other was approximately 25 feet to the rear of the spot where the auto halted, he said. A bag of candy which the youngster had just purchased also was found on the street.

Cornman, cited on a charge of driving without a license, was fined $50 and costs today when he pleaded guilty before Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp. Cornman said he forgot to renew his license when it expired Oct. 23, but since has obtained a new permit.

Newell Firemen Plan Activities

Vern Betteridge, maintenance fund drive chairman, announced at a meeting of the Newell volunteer fire department Monday night at the station that two rural areas will be canvassed Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

The group voted to hold a Christmas party Dec. 17. Named as a committee were Gene Lytton, chairman; Gary Nelson, Archie Coen, Pearley Adkins and Betteridge. Active and retired firemen, wives and children are invited, Lytton said.

The company voted to pay its share for refilling fire extinguishers used in the state fire school currently being conducted at the Newell station.

Man Fined In Hit-Run Case After Police Car's Damaged

A 22-year-old St. Clair Township man was fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a hit-run charge in connection with a traffic mishap that damaged a city police cruiser early on the morning of Oct. 22.

Jimmie Lee Kraft of Calcutta was fined by Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp on an affidavit signed by Patrolman Paul C. Blevins, operator of the cruiser when it was hit while halted on College St. at E. 3rd St.

Blevins told the court that only $10 damage resulted to the cruiser, according to an estimate obtained by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. The judge told Kraft $15 of the fine will be suspended if he makes restitution for the damage to the police car.

The charge was brought under the City Code.

"You are fortunate you were not charged under state law, as the penalty is much more severe," the judge told Kraft.

Blevins reported his cruiser was halted for a stop sign on College St. at E. 3rd St. when Kraft drove off the Chester Bridge and then turned the corner from E. 3rd St. onto College St.

Kraft's car hit the left rear of the cruiser and the driver shouted some words that were incomprehensible, the officer reported. But the offending car continued without stopping, he said.

Blevins said he was prevented from taking up pursuit immediately because an unidentified motorist halted and complained to him about Kraft's driving on the West Virginia side of the river. Another downtown cruiser was alerted, but the officer could not locate Kraft, Blevins said.

Then he filed a warrant against Kraft. It was served with the cooperation of the county sheriff's department, the officer, said.

Before pronouncing sentence, the judge studied Kraft's police record.

"You have a long record of violations, including many involving motor vehicles," he commented.

10 Get Seats Tentatively In Murder Trial

Ten jurors were seated tentatively Monday for the Common Pleas Court trial at Lisbon of Charles Leroy Copestick, 25, of 871 Valley Ave., charged with first-degree murder.

Examination of more prospective jurors to complete the panel of 12, plus two alternates, resumed this morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Twenty-two prospects were examined yesterday and 12 were excused for cause — eight because of opposition to capital punishment.

The prospects are being examined individually. Once the 12 jurors are seated, the state and defense can exercise the right of peremptory challenges. Each side may excuse up to six jurors without giving a reason.

Once the jury is sworn in, state and defense have agreed to take it to view the scene—Price St. Ext. in Liverpool Township, where the state claims Copestick killed his estranged wife, Rebecca Mae, 19, with a pistol last June 19.

The trip will depend on the weather, counsel said. A bus could not reach the secluded area and jurors would have to walk some distance to the scene.

this category. Therefore, I am delighted to learn that they have such plans."

Boyd said yesterday he was not in favor of the Rogers site from the beginning, but made no issue of it because it did not come to a vote at that time.

The site selected is on a high, reasonably level plateau approximately 200 yards east of Route 7 and one - half mile north of Rogers. Behind it to the east is an old strip mine area, but the site itself is on a broad point of land overlooking Bull Creek and the village. To the west, across Route 7, is the old Rogers homestead which is to be a part of the honor farm. The home is roughly 400 yards from the school site.

Owen said statements Boyd gave the papers made it sound as though the site was on a spoil bank in a stripped area. Boyd replied he did refer to strip - mined land, but did not use the word "spoil bank."

While discussing Boyd's statement that "in my opinion the two institutions are not compatible," Owen called in Judge Tobin.

The judge said, "This is a 160-acre farm with the honor farm on one side of the highway and the school on the other. The presence of one is not going to hurt the other. They will be operated entirely separate and apart." He told Boyd, however, that he had a perfect right to a different view.

Boyd mentioned the heavy truck traffic on the Rogers hill and the danger to school buses turning in and out of the road which will lead to the school. The turnoff is a short distance up grade beyond the Bull Creek bridge. Owen said the entrance has a clear view one - half mile north and south on Route 7. He said most of the Route 7 truck traffic will disappear with the completion of Route 11. Three other schools — "Beaver Local Public, Beaver Local High and Westgate Junior High have school buses turning on and off Route 7, he said.

BOYD WAS questioned about an estimate of $10,000 for grading the proposed site and replied that the architect had used that figure. Owen called Beatty and the architect told a reporter he would be unable to make any estimate on grading costs until George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, completed a contour survey. Bloomgren's crew was at work on the site late yesterday afternoon.

Boyd handed newsmen a copy of a letter from James J. Schmidt, geologist for the Division of Water, Department of Natural Resources, to support his suggestion adequate water might not be available.

Schmidt said a study of wells drilled in this area showed they seldom exceed two gallons per minute and many will yield less than one. Schmidt said the standards of the Ohio Department of Health call for at least 15 gallons per pupil per day.

Gard said he talked to three well drillers who know the Rogers area and all told him "we can get all the water you want." Gard said a well drilled at the honor farm gives over seven gallons per minute.

Owen said the site, while not near the geographic center of the county, is near the population center and would be more economical from a transportation standpoint than the Lisbon area. The Rogers site is only six miles north of the present school at Elkton.

Owen said his mind is not closed to another site if it were shown to be better and someone wanted to donate it to the county. However, he pointed out, this would set the project back any where from six months to a year.

A federal grant of $103,999 has been approved and a 1-mill levy approved by the voters last November will bring an approximate $250,000 additional for construction of the school and sheltered workshop for retarded beyond school age.

Child's Shoes Torn Off By Crash Impact

An 8-year-old child injured by an auto about noon Monday on Pennsylvania Ave. near Dewey Ave. was struck with such force that both shoes were torn from her feet, the investigating officer reported.

Lavina Lou Shreve, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller of Lee St., was in "satisfactory" condition today at City Hospital with injuries of the pelvis and leg suffered in the mishap at 11:54 a. m. yesterday.

Police said she was hit by an eastbound 1962 two-door sedan driven by Francis W. Cornman Jr., 22, of Dixonville.

Cornman told Patrolman Orin C. Smith he was driving about 25 miles an hour when the child ran from between two parked cars into his path. He said the girl was near his right front fender before he saw her and he swerved the car in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the accident.

The officer said he was unable to interview the injured child yesterday because she was under sedation.

Smith said he found 28 feet of tire skid marks at the scene. Both of the girl's slip-on type shoes were torn from her feet by the impact, he reported. The right shoe was found about 18 inches from the child, while the other was approximately 25 feet to the rear of the spot where the auto halted, he said. A bag of candy which the youngster had just purchased also was found on the street.

Cornman, cited on a charge of driving without a license, was fined $50 and costs today when he pleaded guilty before Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp. Cornman said he forgot to renew his license when it expired Oct. 23, but since has obtained a new permit.

Ten jurors were seated tentatively Monday for the Common Pleas Court trial at Lisbon of Charles Leroy Copestick, 25, of 871 Valley Ave., charged with first-degree murder.

Examination of more prospective jurors to complete the panel of 12, plus two alternates, resumed this morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Twenty-two prospects were examined yesterday and 12 were excused for cause — eight because of opposition to capital punishment.

The prospects are being examined individually. Once the 12 jurors are seated, the state and defense can exercise the right of peremptory challenges. Each side may excuse up to six jurors without giving a reason.

Once the jury is sworn in, state and defense have agreed to take it to view the scene—Price St. Ext. in Liverpool Township, where the state claims Copestick killed his estranged wife, Rebecca Mae, 19, with a pistol last June 19.

The trip will depend on the weather, counsel said. A bus could not reach the secluded area and jurors would have to walk some distance to the scene.

German-Born U.S. Airman Held As Spy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A German-born U.S. airman has been arrested and a Soviet diplomat ordered to leave the country in the fourth major American spy case reported since July by the FBI.

Staff Sgt. Herbert William Boeckenhaupt, 25, was seized Monday by FBI agents at March Air Force Base in Riverside, Calif. He was arraigned here on a charge of conspiring to commit espionage to deliver to a Russian diplomat "information relating to the national defense of the United States."

Boeckenhaupt, who lived in Superior, Wis., with his family since immigrating to the United States in 1948, pleaded innocent. He was ordered held on $50,000 bail.

'Trick-or-Treat' Night Termed Very Orderly

East Liverpool youngsters were "very orderly" in their annual "trick - or treat" Halloween rounds Monday night and virtually no real property damage resulted, police commented today.

Only a few minor complaints were received during the "spook night," officers said.

Mrs. Pauline Wilson of Boring Ln. reported a green tomato was hurled through a window pane at her home about 8:40 last night. Mrs. Thelma Goodman of 1556 Globe St. reported a Pennsylvania license plate 223080 was stolen off her son's car and the radio antenna was broken while it was parked on Globe St. last night.

Mrs. Goodman resides in Pittsburgh during the week while teaching school here, driving an auto owned by her son, Reed J. Davis of Pittsburgh, police explained.

this category. Therefore, I am delighted to learn that they have such plans."

Boyd said yesterday he was not in favor of the Rogers site from the beginning, but made no issue of it because it did not come to a vote at that time.

The site selected is on a high, reasonably level plateau approximately 200 yards east of Route 7 and one - half mile north of Rogers. Behind it to the east is an old strip mine area, but the site itself is on a broad point of land overlooking Bull Creek and the village. To the west, across Route 7, is the old Rogers homestead which is to be a part of the honor farm. The home is roughly 400 yards from the school site.

Owen said statements Boyd gave the papers made it sound as though the site was on a spoil bank in a stripped area. Boyd replied he did refer to strip - mined land, but did not use the word "spoil bank."

While discussing Boyd's statement that "in my opinion the two institutions are not compatible," Owen called in Judge Tobin.

The judge said, "This is a 160-acre farm with the honor farm on one side of the highway and the school on the other. The presence of one is not going to hurt the other. They will be operated entirely separate and apart." He told Boyd, however, that he had a perfect right to a different view.

Boyd mentioned the heavy truck traffic on the Rogers hill and the danger to school buses turning in and out of the road which will lead to the school. The turnoff is a short distance up grade beyond the Bull Creek bridge. Owen said the entrance has a clear view one - half mile north and south on Route 7. He said most of the Route 7 truck traffic will disappear with the completion of Route 11. Three other schools — "Beaver Local Public, Beaver Local High and Westgate Junior High have school buses turning on and off Route 7, he said.

BOYD WAS questioned about an estimate of $10,000 for grading the proposed site and replied that the architect had used that figure. Owen called Beatty and the architect told a reporter he would be unable to make any estimate on grading costs until George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, completed a contour survey. Bloomgren's crew was at work on the site late yesterday afternoon.

Boyd handed newsmen a copy of a letter from James J. Schmidt, geologist for the Division of Water, Department of Natural Resources, to support his suggestion adequate water might not be available.

Schmidt said a study of wells drilled in this area showed they seldom exceed two gallons per minute and many will yield less than one. Schmidt said the standards of the Ohio Department of Health call for at least 15 gallons per pupil per day.

Gard said he talked to three well drillers who know the Rogers area and all told him "we can get all the water you want." Gard said a well drilled at the honor farm gives over seven gallons per minute.

Owen said the site, while not near the geographic center of the county, is near the population center and would be more economical from a transportation standpoint than the Lisbon area. The Rogers site is only six miles north of the present school at Elkton.

Owen said his mind is not closed to another site if it were shown to be better and someone wanted to donate it to the county. However, he pointed out, this would set the project back any where from six months to a year.

A federal grant of $103,999 has been approved and a 1-mill levy approved by the voters last November will bring an approximate $250,000 additional for construction of the school and sheltered workshop for retarded beyond school age.

Quiz Pressed Into Theft Of 20 TV Sets

NEW CUMBERLAND — Twenty television sets valued at approximately $8,000 were stolen early Sunday morning from King's Electronics on S. Chester St., it was disclosed today by West Virginia state police.

A rented truck van and trailer were reported seen in the vicinity of the store about 3, according to the report. The thieves forced open a rear door.

Fifteen of the sets were color models, according to Mrs. Elsie Glover, store manager.

Police Chief Jake Baxter, who is joining in the investigation, said he believes the theft was committed by an organization operating in the tri - state area.

Damage High In Rig Wreck

Damage estimates run as high as $22,000 in a Monday afternoon accident which saw a large tractor - trailer go out of control on a curve and upset on Route 213, near Yellow Creek.

The Wintersville post of the Highway Patrol said the truck was driven by Robert Vincent, 25, of East Liverpool R. D. 2.

They said Vincent was hauling brick in a trailer belonging to Darryl Hoppel of R. D. 3 and failed to negotiate a curve while northbound. The vehicle skidded 225 feet before going off the right side of the road. The trailer overturned, causing the tractor to flip onto its top and the tractor skidded an additional 34 feet before coming to a halt.

Damage to the cab and tractor was placed at $12,000. The load of 49,000 pounds of fire brick was estimated to be worth $10,200.

Vincent suffered a head laceration, but was not treated. He was cited for driving at a speed excessive for conditions.

Youth, 18, Fined In Hit-Skip Case

NEW CUMBERLAND — Robert Lee Davis Jr., 18, of Chester R.D. 1 was fined $50 costs Monday by Squire John D. Herron on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He had been cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

In another hearing, Edwin E. Smith, 47, of Chester R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs after being charged by West Virginia state police with having an expired operator's license.

Jerold Block, 48, of Weirton was fined $10 and costs after being arrested by state troopers for speeding.

In city police court last night, with Herron presiding judge, Larry Forsythe, 19, of Chester R.D. 1 was fined $20 and costs for "squealing tires" on Ridge Ave. He was apprehended by Chief Jake Baxter.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have been sitting here looking at the newspaper and I have determined what is wrong with the world.

The Bible teaches us that the father should be the head of the house. But is he? Just look around. Every man I know is scared to death of his wife. Women run everything. They push their husbands around shamelessly. The wife makes all the decisions. The only thing a wife lets her husband do these days is pay the bills.

Then the situation gets more complicated. Both parents are afraid of their children. If you take a good look at the teen-agers today you will see that nobody has the nerve to open up a mouth and tell them how to dress, how to act, how to wear their hair or even when to wash.

I've seen 15-year-old punks smoking cigarettes. I have two nieces, 13 and 14, and they both look like tramps. If I can see it, why can't their parents?

I wish you would print this letter and give your millions of readers something to think about—SQUARE AND PROUD OF IT.

Dear Proud Square: It's unfair to generalize about wives, husbands, teen-agers or anything else. I know some women who do not run their husbands and I know many teen-agers who are bright, respectful, hardworking and highly principled.

I agree that too many marriages are in pathetic shape and for just the reasons you mention. I agree, too, that some of our teen-agers could use firmer discipline. Nonetheless, I thank you for giving my readers something to think about. The trouble is, the ones who ought to think about it won't.

The following letter is not offered in rebuttal, but rather as another point of view.

Woman Stuff

Dear Ann: I'm getting sick to death of reading articles called "The Domineering Wife," "The Lady Wears the Pants" and "What Has Happened to Man's Role in Our Society?"

Please tell me what can a wife do when her husband simply cannot make a decision? Somebody in the family must get things done if things are going to get done. In our family I'm the one who must do it.

My husband is a lethargic, indecisive guy who drifts along from day to day. If a bill doesn't get paid, he could care less. The house has been falling apart for two years and he hasn't even noticed. Although he is a carpenter by trade he has yet to pick up a hammer around here. I have to hire a man to make all the repairs or make them myself.

I hope you will print my letter because I'm sure there are millions of other women who are in the same fix.—THANKS FOR LISTENING.

-:-

Dear Thanks: I've always contended that people find each other for a reason. Now you know the reason he found you. Or did you find him, the doll?

Generally speaking, wives who are the movers and shakers in the family were that way before they married. And they went out and found a man who needed to be both moved and shaken.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By then the B17 may have a new look, thanks to David, who wrote letters to officials asking that the plane's peeling paint and broken windows be fixed. An American Legion post has promised to take care of the plane, which is now a monument. The Belle was the first American bomber to fly 25 missions over Nazi Europe.

Morgan, now an automobile dealer, will fly his own plane to Birmingham to pick up David for the trip to Memphis.

250,000 Vets Continue Education Under GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 250,000 of America's "cold war" veterans have streamed onto college campuses this fall to continue their education with the aid of the new GI Bill, officials reported today.

Settlement of the Viet Nam war and the subsequent return to civilian life of many of the 336,000 troops now committed to the conflict would send the total zooming upward, they said, perhaps causing severe overcrowding in some schools.

Under the measure — commonly known as the "Cold War GI Bill" — signed by President Johnson on March 3, honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days active military service since Jan. 31, 1955 are eligible for educational, housing and other benefits.

The program, approved by Congress without a dissenting vote, amounts to an extension of World War II and Korean War GI benefits, but on a reduced scale.

The Veterans Administration said 211,000 October benefit checks had been mailed by last Friday to veterans enrolled in colleges, universities and other institutions — such as vocational or business schools. Files of 35,000 applicants were being processed Monday, a spokesman said.

Officials said they expect the figure to level off at about 240,000 this school year. About 64,000 veterans attended summer classes after the program went into effect June 1.

The new bill covers veterans who served in the war in Viet Nam. But VA officials said their records do not show how many veterans of the Viet Nam conflict are benefitting from the measure.

Under the new program, an unmarried student can collect $100 a month in educational aid, a married student with no children $125 a month and a student with two or more dependents $150 monthly.

A veteran is entitled to one month's benefits for each month spent in uniform — with a 36-month limit. Thus a veteran with three years of active service can receive payments spread over four nine-month school years.

It was announced that the East Liverpool CD unit has been admitted to the Tri-State Firemen's Association.

The CD police team and the Tri-State REACT team assisted Madison and St. Clair Township constables in a Halloween patrol over the weekend.

EAST PALESTINE — Fireman Apprentice John S. Lipp Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lipp of 666½ W. Clark St., recently completed a course at the Basic Enlisted Submarine School in Groton, Conn.

Hint Of Rivalry Avoided For '72 Presidential Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy avoided any hint of a rivalry for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination with an exchange of compliments and humor during a New York political rally Monday night.

Kennedy introduced Humphrey to guests at a $250-a-plate dinner as "a man who has contributed very much to the United States and really deserves the title Mr. Liberal."

Humphrey, in turn, thanked Kennedy for his campaigning this fall and said, "I'm very grateful to him for all he has done for the Democratic party."

Both men urged the election of Frank D. O'Connor who is opposing Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for re-election.

Dear Ann: I'm getting sick to death of reading articles called "The Domineering Wife," "The Lady Wears the Pants" and "What Has Happened to Man's Role in Our Society?"

Please tell me what can a wife do when her husband simply cannot make a decision? Somebody in the family must get things done if things are going to get done. In our family I'm the one who must do it.

My husband is a lethargic, indecisive guy who drifts along from day to day. If a bill doesn't get paid, he could care less. The house has been falling apart for two years and he hasn't even noticed. Although he is a carpenter by trade he has yet to pick up a hammer around here. I have to hire a man to make all the repairs or make them myself.

The only thing my husband does on his own—with no prodding—is drink. He is gassed every weekend.

I hope you will print my letter because I'm sure there are millions of other women who are in the same fix.—THANKS FOR LISTENING.

Dear Thanks: I've always contended that people find each other for a reason. Now you know the reason he found you. Or did you find him, the doll?

Generally speaking, wives who are the movers and shakers in the family were that way before they married. And they went out and found a man who needed to be both moved and shaken.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A man and a boy who both love the Memphis Belle plan a meeting next month to visit the famous World War II bomber.

Robert K. Morgan of Asheville, N.C., who piloted the Belle to fame in the war, and David Pitts, 13, of Pleasant Grove, Ala., who seeks to stem her peacetime decline, will come to Memphis, Tenn., for the Liberty Bowl football game Dec. 10 and a visit with the Belle.

By then the B17 may have a new look, thanks to David, who wrote letters to officials asking that the plane's peeling paint and broken windows be fixed. An American Legion post has promised to take care of the plane, which is now a monument. The Belle was the first American bomber to fly 25 missions over Nazi Europe.

Morgan, now an automobile dealer, will fly his own plane to Birmingham to pick up David for the trip to Memphis.

250,000 Vets Continue Education Under GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 250,000 of America's "cold war" veterans have streamed onto college campuses this fall to continue their education with the aid of the new GI Bill, officials reported today.

Settlement of the Viet Nam war and the subsequent return to civilian life of many of the 336,000 troops now committed to the conflict would send the total zooming upward, they said, perhaps causing severe overcrowding in some schools.

Under the measure — commonly known as the "Cold War GI Bill" — signed by President Johnson on March 3, honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days active military service since Jan. 31, 1955 are eligible for educational, housing and other benefits.

The program, approved by Congress without a dissenting vote, amounts to an extension of World War II and Korean War GI benefits, but on a reduced scale.

The Veterans Administration said 211,000 October benefit checks had been mailed by last Friday to veterans enrolled in colleges, universities and other institutions — such as vocational or business schools. Files of 35,000 applicants were being processed Monday, a spokesman said.

Officials said they expect the figure to level off at about 240,000 this school year. About 64,000 veterans attended summer classes after the program went into effect June 1.

The new bill covers veterans who served in the war in Viet Nam. But VA officials said their records do not show how many veterans of the Viet Nam conflict are benefitting from the measure.

Under the new program, an unmarried student can collect $100 a month in educational aid, a married student with no children $125 a month and a student with two or more dependents $150 monthly.

A veteran is entitled to one month's benefits for each month spent in uniform — with a 36-month limit. Thus a veteran with three years of active service can receive payments spread over four nine-month school years.

It was announced that the East Liverpool CD unit has been admitted to the Tri-State Firemen's Association.

The CD police team and the Tri-State REACT team assisted Madison and St. Clair Township constables in a Halloween patrol over the weekend.

Hint Of Rivalry Avoided For '72 Presidential Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy avoided any hint of a rivalry for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination with an exchange of compliments and humor during a New York political rally Monday night.

Kennedy introduced Humphrey to guests at a $250-a-plate dinner as "a man who has contributed very much to the United States and really deserves the title Mr. Liberal."

Humphrey, in turn, thanked Kennedy for his campaigning this fall and said, "I'm very grateful to him for all he has done for the Democratic party."

Both men urged the election of Frank D. O'Connor who is opposing Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for re-election.

Steubenville Holds AA Lead; EL Slips To 14th In Poll

Big Red Eyes Massillon In Showdown; Stanton 8th In A Voting

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This is showdown week for unbeaten Steubenville, still ranked as the best high school football team in the state in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Big Red (8-0) journey to Tigertown Friday for a crucial game against once-proud but slump-ridden Massillon, losers of four straight contests.

Coach Abe Bryan's club could practically wrap up the mythical state championship with a victory over the Tigers—but it won't be easy. Massillon, always tough in its own ballyard, has lost to No. 2 ranked Upper Arlington, third-rated Niles, rugged Warren Harding and potent Altoona, Pa.

The top ten saw little change this week among the Class AA schools. Columbus Eastmoor (8-0) crashed the elite group for the first time taking the tenth spot away from Portsmouth after whipping the Trojans 38-15.

Arlington (8-0) again held second, 38 points behind Steubenville. Niles (8-0) was third followed by Sandusky (8-0), Hamilton Garfield (7-0), Columbus Watterson (8-0), Dover (8-0), Louisville (8-0), Akron Hoban (7-1) and Eastmoor.

Arlington and Watterson have their big showdown clash on Nov. 11.

Marion Catholic continued to hold first place among the Class A powers with 143 points after topping Highland 28-12 for its eighth straight victory.

Millersport (8-0) was second, 28 points back of Marion, while Portsmouth Notre Dame (7-0) held third.

Rounding out the top ten were New Albany (8-0), Clear Fork (7-0-1), Unioto (8-0), Sandusky St. Mary (8-0), Stanton Local (7-0), Brookville (7-1) and Columbus Academy (7-1) and Mechanicsburg (8-0), which tied for tenth.

Academy lost its first, a tough 2-0 setback to No. 4 New Albany, while Brookville also fell for the first time, losing to AA Northmont 16-8.

Scholastic sidelights — Steubenville needs victories over Massillon and Steubenville Catholic Central to post their first unbeaten season since 1935.

Little Scio, only five years out of six-man football, made it seven straight with a 32-18 triumph over the Jefferson Union reserves.

Unioto knocked off Logan Elm 14-0 to cop its second straight Scioto Valley Conference pennant and hasn't lost in 18 games.

No. 11 Hamilton Badin, formerly Hamilton Catholic, smacked Dayton Carroll 40-18 for its 30th straight triumph.

Cuyahoga Heights in Class A Badin lost its entire starting backfield in the game via injuries.

Unbeaten Louisville has now racked up 36 straight. has seven straight shutouts, including a scoreless tie, against Double A competition.

Millersport, with a 19-game winning skein, has won 37 of its last 38. The Lakers have blanked 17 of their last 18 foes.

Previously winless Licking Valley knocked off Heath 28-8 cracking a modest seven-game losing string and extending Heath's consecutive reversals to 31.

Lions' Coach Reported On His Way Out

DETROIT (AP) — Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry."

But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same tune he sang earlier this year it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the signs and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division.

It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweetan at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

Gilmer is doing his best to ignore criticism from players and fans. He's made wholesale changes in the Lions, letting many veterans go in exchange for youth. But it's hard to tell when, if ever, the moves will bear fruit.

Cards Beat Bears, 24-17, To Regain Division Lead

By BEN BROWN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two mighty defensive units dominated Monday night's National Football League game between St. Louis and the Chicago Bears, and the difference was Larry Wilson, a 190-pound defensive safety for the Cardinals.

Wilson intercepted three passes, including one that he returned for a touchdown, as St. Louis moved back into first place in the Eastern Conference with a hard-fought 24-17 victory over the Bears.

St. Louis regained the lead in the Eastern Conference as result of the victory. The Cards are 6-1-1, just ahead of Dallas, 5-1-1. Chicago, a member of the Western Conference, is 3-4.

John Roland bulled over from the three for two first-quarter touchdowns to give St. Louis a quick two-touchdown margin. Rudy Bukich's sneak and his 80-yard pass play to Gale Savers enabled Chicago to keep within a touchdown of the Cardinals.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis and Roger Leclerc of the Bears booted field goals of 40 and 16 yards, respectively, to complete the scoring.

Wilson sat quietly in the dressing room after the game and had little to say about his performance. However, his coach, Charley Winner, did the talking.

"He's played great football all year," Winner said. "I don't think he's capable of playing a bad game. . .

Winner said the Cardinals switched Wilson, a seven-year veteran from Utah, around at times. "You can't expect to do the same things you've been doing and beat (Chicago Coach) George Halas."

Halas praised Wilson's play, terming him one of the game's best defensive players ever.

Chicago picked up 282 yards passing and rushing while St. Louis could muster only 166 against the Bears. Charley Johnson, the St. Louis quarterback, hit only four of 16 passes for 47 yards while Bukich connected on 12 of 28 for 172 yards.

ELHS Cagers Set To Open Practice

Coach Clinton McConnell issued the call today for basketball candidates as East Liverpool High School opened practice for the 1966-67 season.

Today is the first official day of practice for school's throughout Ohio.

McConnell begins his first season at East Liverpool after serving at Ashtabula Edgewood. He replaces Frank Chan who was relieved of his duties last June and is now head basketball coach at Beaver Falls High School.

Four lettermen are back this season but the majority of those players who will be counted upon for varsity duty are members of the football squad and won't be reporting to the hardwood until after Nov. 11.

Returning for his third season as a regular is Vern Smith, the team's leading scorer last season.

Other lettermen are Denny Smith, Mitchell Jones and Earl Diddle. Both Smith and Diddle are on the football squad. Others who saw considerable action last season for the Potters are Pete Carter and Mike McVay also members of the grid team.

McConnell also is looking forward to a group of candidates up from the reserve team which compiled a 13-4 record last season.

District Court To Air Neely Issue Nov. 10

DALLAS (AP) — Another action that may delay further any projected removal of tackle Ralph Neely from the Dallas Cowboys' roster has been filed by the National Football League team and a hearing set for Nov. 10 in the 68th District Court here.

Declaring that Dallas had not had its day in court in the contract case of Neely, held by the Supreme Court to be now the property of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, Erich Klein, attorney for the Cowboys, filed a suit asking a declaratory judgment that a contract Neely signed with Dallas is valid.

The action came three weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled, in effect, that Neely's contract with the Oilers was valid and that he must leave the Cowboys.

Neely signed contracts with both Houston and Dallas. He has been playing with Dallas since that time—two years ago—but it has been on a week-to-week basis for almost a month.

Ortiz To Face Elorde In Title Bout Nov. 28

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz has signed for his first bout in Madison Square Garden in five years — a Nov. 28 title defense against Flash Elorde of the Philippines.

Ortiz, 30, retained the lightweight title in a riotous defense against Sugar Ramos in Mexico City two weeks ago.

Elorde, 31, is junior lightweight champion.

Steelers' Bradshaw Sidelined By Injury

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers will be without the services of defensive halfback Jim Bradshaw Sunday when they play the Cleveland Browns at Pitt Stadium.

Bradshaw suffered a severe ankle sprain against Dallas Sunday. A team spokesman also announced Monday that the condition of defensive end John Baker out five weeks with a torn muscle, is still in doubt.

New Orleans Becomes 16th Member Of NFL

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—This historic city becomes the 16th member of the National Football League today.

A news conference was scheduled for 10 a.m. CST, today to announce the awarding of the francise to New Orlens.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle—who will be the czar of the super-league when the National and American loops complete their merger in 1970—quietly arrived in town late Monday night for the announcement session.

New Orleans will field a team in the NFL next season.

The name most frequently mentioned for the team is the New Orleans — or Louisiana — Saints, from the city's Dixieland heritage. Today, incidentally, is All Saints Day.

However, it will be up to the owner of the franchise to select the team name. Rozelle said on a visit here last week that the NFL would study the applications for ownership after announcing the franchise city and decide on the owner within a few days.

Louis J. Roussel, a $4-a-day New Orleans street car motorman as a teen-ager who now has an oil and banking fortune exceeding $150 million, is the leading candidate and probable choice, The Associated Press learned.

New Orleans has been seeking a pro franchise since 1960. The prime mover in the drive was David Dixon, who has promoted NFL exhibition games here for several years.

Dixon was out stumping the state Monday in support of a constitutional amendment—to be decided a week from today—which would establish a commission empowered to levy a hotel occupancy tax in metropolitan New Orleans and use the proceeds to finance bonds for a Superdome Sports Stadium.

Tulane University has said it would permit a pro team to use its 82,500-seat stadium as an interim facility—no more than three years.

Although the stadium—site of the post-season Sugar Bowl game for collegiate teams—is one of the country's largest, it has almost no parking facilities.

70-Hour Grid Game Winds Up 651-635

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — They stopped playing football at Gonzaga University Monday night, 70 hours after the Friday kickoff.

The Mustangs beat the Piranhas 651-635 in what backers of the marathon touch football game claim is the longest in collegiate history.

The players — dressed in sweatsuits, wool caps and gloves against below-freezing overnight temperatures — played six hours at a stretch. The teams varied from 6 to 8 men.

Barry Off To Fast Start In NBA Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of San Francisco, the National Basketball Association's Rookie of the Year last season, is off to a blazing start in this year's individual scoring derby.

Barry poured in 57 points against Cincinnati last Saturday night and has averaged just under 40 per-game in seven starts, according to official NBA figures released today. The Warriors' forward has a 274-198 edge in total points over runner-up Guy Rodgers of the new Chicago Bulls, who has played one more game.

Tom Hawkins of the Lakers tops the field goal shooters with a .588 percentage.

Daugherty's Playoff Plan Wins Preliminary Okay

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —A post-season college football playoff, proposed Monday by Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty, received preliminary approval today from Walter Byers, executive secretary of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Daugherty's proposal called for elimination of the traditional New Year's Day bowl games in favor of an eight-team playoff between the champions of six major college conferences and two leading independents.

"I don't see any reason why college football cannot follow the same national collegiate playoff pattern as all other intercollegiate sports enjoy," said Byers, spokesman for the ruling body of intercollegiate athletics.

Daugherty said his plan, which he said had the approval of some fellow coaches and Notre Dame, would call for a playoff among the Big Ten, the Big Eight, Southwest, Southeastern, Pacific Coast and Atlantic Coast conferences, plus two at-large teams.

His main points were that it would provide—once and for all—an undisputed national collegiate football champion among major colleges and would produce a financial bonanza for NCAA members from television receipts.

The plan is not new. Bud Wilkinson, the former Oklahoma coach has plugged for such a playoff as have others.

7 Of Red Wings, Rangers Among Scoring Leaders

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit and New York have managed only three victories between them so far this season, but a look at the National Hockey League's scoring figures shows seven Red Wings and Rangers bunched among the top ten individual scorers.

Figures released by the NHL today show only Chicago's Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull and Montreal's Bobby Rousseau breaking the Detroit-New York dominance.

Mikita shares the lead with Detroit's Norm Ullman. Each has scored 11 points, Mikita on three goals and eight assists and Ullman on one goal and 10 assists.

Paul Henderson, Detroit's right-handed shooting left wing, scored six goals in two games last week and shot into third place with 8-1-9. Henderson also leads the league in goals.

New York's Phil Goyette is fourth with eight points — all on assists. Hull, with four goals and three assists is fifth.

Five players are tied with six points each.

Steubenville Holds AA Lead; EL Slips To 14th In Poll

Big Red Eyes Massillon In Showdown; Stanton 8th In A Voting

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This is showdown week for unbeaten Steubenville, still ranked as the best high school football team in the state in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Big Red (8-0) journey to Tigertown Friday for a crucial game against once-proud but slump-ridden Massillon, losers of four straight contests.

Coach Abe Bryan's club could practically wrap up the mythical state championship with a victory over the Tigers—but it won't be easy. Massillon, always tough in its own ballyard, has lost to No. 2 ranked Upper Arlington, third-rated Niles, rugged Warren Harding and potent Altoona, Pa.

The top ten saw little change this week among the Class AA schools. Columbus Eastmoor (8-0) crashed the elite group for the first time taking the tenth spot away from Portsmouth after whipping the Trojans 38-15.

Arlington (8-0) again held second, 38 points behind Steubenville. Niles (8-0) was third followed by Sandusky (8-0), Hamilton Garfield (7-0), Columbus Watterson (8-0), Dover (8-0), Louisville (8-0), Akron Hoban (7-1) and Eastmoor.

Arlington and Watterson have their big showdown clash on Nov. 11.

Marion Catholic continued to hold first place among the Class A powers with 143 points after topping Highland 28-12 for its eighth straight victory.

Millersport (8-0) was second, 28 points back of Marion, while Portsmouth Notre Dame (7-0) held third.

Rounding out the top ten were New Albany (8-0), Clear Fork (7-0-1), Unioto (8-0), Sandusky St. Mary (8-0), Stanton Local (7-0), Brookville (7-1) and Columbus Academy (7-1) and Mechanicsburg (8-0), which tied for tenth.

Academy lost its first, a tough 2-0 setback to No. 4 New Albany, while Brookville also fell for the first time, losing to AA Northmont 16-8.

Scholastic sidelights — Steubenville needs victories over Massillon and Steubenville Catholic Central to post their first unbeaten season since 1935.

Little Scio, only five years out of six-man football, made it seven straight with a 32-18 triumph over the Jefferson Union reserves.

Unioto knocked off Logan Elm 14-0 to cop its second straight Scioto Valley Conference pennant and hasn't lost in 18 games.

No. 11 Hamilton Badin, formerly Hamilton Catholic, smacked Dayton Carroll 40-18 for its 30th straight triumph.

Cuyahoga Heights in Class A Badin lost its entire starting backfield in the game via injuries.

Unbeaten Louisville has now racked up 36 straight.

has seven straight shutouts, including a scoreless tie, against Double A competition.

Millersport, with a 19-game winning skein, has won 37 of its last 38. The Lakers have blanked 17 of their last 18 foes.

Previously winless Licking Valley knocked off Heath 28-8 cracking a modest seven-game losing string and extending Heath's consecutive reversals to 31.

Lions' Coach Reported On His Way Out

DETROIT (AP) — Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry."

But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same tune he sang earlier this year it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the signs and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division.

It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweetan at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

Gilmer is doing his best to ignore criticism from players and fans. He's made wholesale changes in the Lions, letting many veterans go in exchange for youth. But it's hard to tell when, if ever, the moves will bear fruit.

Cards Beat Bears, 24-17, To Regain Division Lead

By BEN BROWN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two mighty defensive units dominated Monday night's National Football League game between St. Louis and the Chicago Bears, and the difference was Larry Wilson, a 190-pound defensive safety for the Cardinals.

Wilson intercepted three passes, including one that he returned for a touchdown, as St. Louis moved back into first place in the Eastern Conference with a hard-fought 24-17 victory over the Bears.

St. Louis regained the lead in the Eastern Conference as result of the victory. The Cards are 6-1-1, just ahead of Dallas, 5-1-1. Chicago, a member of the Western Conference, is 3-4.

John Roland bulled over from the three for two first-quarter touchdowns to give St. Louis a quick two-touchdown margin. Rudy Bukich's sneak and his 80-yard pass play to Gale Sayers enabled Chicago to keep within a touchdown of the Cardinals.

Jim Bakken of St. Louis and Roger Leclerc of the Bears booted field goals of 40 and 16 yards, respectively, to complete the scoring.

Wilson sat quietly in the dressing room after the game and had little to say about his performance. However, his coach, Charley Winner, did the talking.

"He's played great football all year," Winner said. "I don't think he's capable of playing a bad game. . .

Winner said the Cardinals switched Wilson, a seven-year veteran from Utah, around at times. "You can't expect to do the same things you've been doing and beat (Chicago Coach) George Halas."

Halas praised Wilson's play, terming him one of the game's best defensive players ever.

Chicago picked up 282 yards passing and rushing while St. Louis could muster only 166 against the Bears. Charley Johnson, the St. Louis quarterback, hit only four of 16 passes for 47 yards while Bukich connected on 12 of 28 for 172 yards.

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska's convincing 35-0 victory over Missouri enabled the unbeaten Cornhuskers to move into sixth place in the Associated Press major-college football poll today. Georgia Tech and Arkansas also gained ground while Notre Dame maintained a solid first-place margin over runner-up Michigan State.

Southern California, upset by Miami of Florida, tumbled four places to ninth, and Tennessee climbed into the Top Ten, replacing Wyoming.

District Court To Air Neely Issue Nov. 10

DALLAS (AP) — Another action that may delay further any projected removal of tackle Ralph Neely from the Dallas Cowboys' roster has been filed by the National Football League team and a hearing set for Nov. 10 in the 68th District Court here.

Declaring that Dallas had not had its day in court in the contract case of Neely, held by the Supreme Court to be now the property of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, Erich Klein, attorney for the Cowboys, filed a suit asking a declaratory judgment that a contract Neely signed with Dallas is valid.

The action came three weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled, in effect, that Neely's contract with the Oilers was valid and that he must leave the Cowboys.

Neely signed contracts with both Houston and Dallas. He has been playing with Dallas since that time—two years ago—but it has been on a week-to-week basis for almost a month.

Ortiz, 30, retained the lightweight title in a riotous defense against Sugar Ramos in Mexico City two weeks ago.

Elorde, 31, is junior lightweight champion.

ELHS Cagers Set To Open Practice

Coach Clinton McConnell issued the call today for basketball candidates as East Liverpool High School opened practice for the 1966-67 season.

Today is the first official day of practice for school's throughout Ohio.

McConnell begins his first season at East Liverpool after serving at Ashtabula Edgewood. He replaces Frank Chan who was relieved of his duties last June and is now head basketball coach at Beaver Falls High School.

Four lettermen are back this season but the majority of those players who will be counted upon for varsity duty are members of the football squad and won't be reporting to the hardwood until after Nov. 11.

Returning for his third season as a regular is Vern Smith, the team's leading scorer last season.

Other lettermen are Denny Smith, Mitchell Jones and Earl Diddle. Both Smith and Diddle are on the football squad. Others who saw considerable action last season for the Potters are Pete Carter and Mike McVay also members of the grid team.

McConnell also is looking forward to a group of candidates up from the reserve team which compiled a 13-4 record last season.

Redskins Bidding For Best Season In NFL In 10 Years

By TOM SEPPY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins are bidding for their best season in 10 years, but Coach Otto Graham doesn't care too much for history. He prefers to look into the future.

"We've got three good ones coming up," Graham told a news conference. "And I'm thinking only of Sunday's game with the Colts. That's enough to worry about."

The Colts routed Washington 35-0 in a pre-season game and have whipped the Redskins six straight times in regular games.

The Redskins have a 5-3 record but now face Baltimore, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Browns, in that order. Later in the season they have return matches with Dallas, the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they defeated Sunday 27-13.

The 1956 Washington team won five of its first eight games and finished third behind the Giants and the Cardinals with a 6-6 record.

This year's Redskins have won five of their last six games, losing only to the lowly New York Giants during that span.

Graham refused to predict how the team might finish in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

"It's difficult to assess the club," he said. "We're not that good. We really have to fight for our lives out there.

"We haven't developed that killer instinct. It takes time to develop that pride . . . that esprit de corps."

Area Youth Rejoins Carrier After Visit

A crewmember on the attack aircraft carrier, he was employed in the axle mill at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. before entering the service. He is a 1964 graduate of Western Beaver High School.

4 Athletes Killed

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — Four young soccer players were killed and 25 others injured when a bus taking them home from a game failed to make a curve on the Cuernavaca-Mexico City highway.

Cup Teams In Brazil

PORTO ALEGR, Brazil (AP) — The United States and Brazilian Davis Cup tennis teams arrived here Monday from Argentina. The two countries meet next weekend in the Interzone Cup semifinals.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Persons And Events

The whole tribe of Andy Williams — his parents, his wife, his brothers and their families — will be aboard the singer's Christmas show airing Dec. 18. The Osmond Brothers also will be on hand. . . .

The period of 10 to 11 p.m. on CBS is getting to be known as Death Valley. Shows that have expired there in the past include "East Side, West Side," "Slattery's People," "CBS Reports," Steve Lawrence, "Hollywood Talent Scouts" and Jean Arthur. Now "I've Got A Secret," moved up from earlier in the evening, is suffering from a case of bad ratings. . . .

OTTO PREMINGER'S appearance as "Mr. Freeze" on "Batman" tonight and Wednesday is being hailed (?) as his first acting part in 14 years. . .

The networks, in their rush to convert every night into movie night, are avoiding a head-on conflict of feature film vs. feature film. When ABC makes Wednesday night the sixth of the week, as expected, only Monday prime time will be without old movies. . . .

Jonathan Winters has been signed to do six guest shots in the next three months for NBC. . . .

Comsat proposes to cut its Early Bird rates, in some cases by half, but there will be no network rush to telecast from Europe live. . . .

"RAT PATROL," which has been filming in Almeria, Spain, is slated now to move to America's Gold Coast — California. . . .

FCC Chairman Kenneth A. Cox last week chided Commissioner Lee Loevinger for downgrading radio and television. Loevinger had called television "the literature of the illiterate, the culture of the lowbrow, the wealth of the poor, the privilege of the underprivileged, the exclusive club of the excluded masses." . . .

CBS still is taking money out of that gold mine, "My Fair Lady." Latest angle is a spin-off in the form of a juvenile novel. . . .

It's official: "Shane" and "Hawk" are not long for this world. They'll be replaced by ABC in the "second season." . . .

DOM DeLUISE is making a pilot for NBC. The roly - poly comedian also will star in an NBC special Jan. 16. . . .

Peter Shaffer, the British playwright represented on Broadway last season with "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," is writing a television play for "CBS Playhouse." He'll turn it in by March 15. . . .

If the networks begin to compete for news interviews—NBC recently paid convicted Nazi war criminal Baldur von Schirach for a Huntley - Brinkley interview — there may not be money left to buy old movies. . .

Leslie Uggams will pay a visit to "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." She'll star in an episode called "the Jewels of Ubango Affair." . . .

-:-

"DREAM GIRL," ABC's daytimer to build excitement and suspense for a yearend beauty pageant special, starts Dec. 19. For girls 18 to 27, Dick Stewart will host. Bachelor celebrities will be the judges. . . .

Redskins Bidding For Best Season In NFL In 10 Years

By TOM SEPPY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins are bidding for their best season in 10 years, but Coach Otto Graham doesn't care too much for history. He prefers to look into the future.

"We've got three good ones coming up," Graham told a news conference. "And I'm thinking only of Sunday's game with the Colts. That's enough to worry about."

The Colts routed Washington 35-0 in a pre-season game and have whipped the Redskins six straight times in regular games.

The Redskins have a 5-3 record but now face Baltimore, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Browns, in that order. Later in the season they have return matches with Dallas, the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they defeated Sunday 27-13.

The 1956 Washington team won five of its first eight games and finished third behind the Giants and the Cardinals with a 6-6 record.

This year's Redskins have won five of their last six games, losing only to the lowly New York Giants during that span.

Graham refused to predict how the team might finish in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

"It's difficult to assess the club," he said. "We're not that good. We really have to fight for our lives out there.

"We haven't developed that killer instinct. It takes time to develop that pride . . . that esprit de corps."

Junior Editors Quiz on PONIES

QUESTION: What is the history of the Welsh pony?

ANSWER: A pony is any horse under 14 hands high at the shoulder, or less than 58 inches. Only a few of the various breeds of horses are ponies. When the Romans took over Britain in 43 A.D., they found the natives using little horses. Later, other horses were brought in, and much larger English strains developed. But several of the original little horse breeds remained. From them came the ponies of today. There is the Shetland pony, coming from the rugged Shetland Islands, where their small size helped them to get along on the small amount of forage available. Then there is the Welsh pony. The Welsh people were never conquered by the Romans, but retreated to wild mountains, taking their little horses with them. These are the same Welsh ponies (with a trace of Arabian blood added) which are so popular everywhere today. Standing about 12-13 hands high, they are ideal for children to ride, being both gentle and intelligent. The smaller Welsh mountain pony is about right for youngsters in the 6-10 year old group. Beside the Shetland and Welsh pony breeds, there are several others which come from England, such as the Connemara, Exmoor and Fell.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture. The ponies can be white, brown, red or black.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 1, the 305th day of 1966. There are 60 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1952, the United States exploded the first hydrogen bomb at Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands.

On this date:

In 1755, earthquakes shook Lisbon. The epicenter was under the ocean and an area of more than one million square miles was disturbed.

In 1864, the United States postal money order system went into operation.

In 1945, the British announced that all evidence indicated that Hitler and Eva Braun had killed themselves on the day following their marriage.

Ten years ago — Soviet troops and tanks, reported to be on their way out of Hungary, ringed Budapest. This as even more Russian troops made their way toward the Hungarian capital where revolutionaries seeking free elections and an end to the one-party system had taken over the government.

Five years ago — the body of Josef Stalin was removed from the Moscow mausoleum where it had been on public view beside that of Lenin since Stalin's death in 1953.

One year ago—U.S. Air Force and Navy jets in "hunger-killer" teams silenced three Communist antiaircraft missile sites in a ring around Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

Grocers Will Be Briefed On New Food Stamp Plan

LISBON — The Grocer's role in the federal food stamp program which Columbiana County will put into effect Dec. 1 will be explained to county food merchants here Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

In charge of the briefing sessions at McKinley School auditorium, E. Chestnut St. and Pritchard Ave., will be C. T. Bolus, officer in charge of the Canton office of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is administering the food stamp program in cooperation with the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

USDA'S consumer and market service in Canton is in charge of authorization of food merchants — retail and wholesale.

Certification of eligible families is being handled by the county Welfare Department at 117 E. Washington St. here.

The food stamp program works as follows:

The Welfare Department determines eligible families and tells them the amount they will need to invest in the program—an amount depending generally on family size and income.

Eligible families pay that amount in cash for food stamps or coupons and receive free enough additional coupons to buy considerably more food supplies.

County commissioners have arranged with five area banks to handle the sale of the stamps. Agreements have been signed by the Farmers National Bank of Salem for the Home Bank at Salem and branches at Hanoverton and Lisbon, the New Waterford Bank, the First National Bank of East Liverpool and the Citizens Banking Co. of Salineville.

Families purchasing the food stamps spend them, just as they would money, in any authorized retail food store. They can buy any food for human consumption except foods plainly marked as being imported. Since this is a food program, the stamps cannot be used to purchase non-food items such as alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, soaps, pet food, vegetable seeds and paper products.

Grocers redeem the coupons at local banks and the banks redeem them through the Federal Reserve System.

Surveys have been conducted to determine the effectiveness of the food stamp program first introduced in May 1961. The Midwent Information Division of the Consumer and Marketing Service reports these findings show that food sales, in dollars, increased an average of 8 per cent in the stores accepting food stamps.

Grocers Will Be Briefed On New Food Stamp Plan

LISBON — The Grocer's role in the federal food stamp program which Columbiana County will put into effect Dec. 1 will be explained to county food merchants here Nov. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

In charge of the briefing sessions at McKinley School auditorium, E. Chestnut St. and Pritchard Ave., will be C. T. Bolus, officer in charge of the Canton office of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is administering the food stamp program in cooperation with the Ohio Department of Public Welfare.

USDA'S consumer and market service in Canton is in charge of authorization of food merchants — retail and wholesale.

Certification of eligible families is being handled by the county Welfare Department at 117 E. Washington St. here.

The food stamp program works as follows:

The Welfare Department determines eligible families and tells them the amount they will need to invest in the program—an amount depending generally on family size and income.

Eligible families pay that amount in cash for food stamps or coupons and receive free enough additional coupons to buy considerably more food supplies.

County commissioners have arranged with five area banks to handle the sale of the stamps. Agreements have been signed by the Farmers National Bank of Salem for the Home Bank at Salem and branches at Hanoverton and Lisbon, the New Waterford Bank, the First National Bank of East Liverpool and the Citizens Banking Co. of Salineville.

Families purchasing the food stamps spend them, just as they would money, in any authorized retail food store. They can buy any food for human consumption except foods plainly marked as being imported. Since this is a food program, the stamps cannot be used to purchase non-food items such as alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, soaps, pet food, vegetable seeds and paper products.

Grocers redeem the coupons at local banks and the banks redeem them through the Federal Reserve System.

Surveys have been conducted to determine the effectiveness of the food stamp program first introduced in May 1961. The Midwest Information Division of the Consumer and Marketing Service reports these findings show that food sales, in dollars, increased an average of 8 per cent in the stores accepting food stamps.
